CONANICUT YACHT CLUB
TO HOST ROSE ISLAND
LIGHTHOUSE FOUNDATION
ANNUAL MEETING --
CATE CRONIN, SPEAKER

We are very happy to be holding our 8th Annual Meeting at the Conanicut Yacht Club in Jamestown. We are equally thrilled to have as our speaker, Cate Cronin, Director of the Maine Island Trail Association (MITA), which represents a membership of 2200 individuals (including our own kayaking keeper Christopher Owens) and more than 65 islands along the coast of Maine.

Specifically designed for people using small boats, MITA's goal is "to provide an exceptional recreational asset that is maintained and cared for by the people who use it, and to encourage a pattern of thoughtful use that will assure preservation of Maine's islands in their natural state."

Through its programs, newsletters and map-filled guidebook, MITA expounds and encourages an ethical pattern of use and voluntary service among members as well as the general public and develops a sense of stewardship among all groups, with obvious benefits to users, property owners and the islands alike.

As each of us evaluates and develops our own individual and collective roles as stewards of Narragansett Bay, its islands and tributaries, it is hoped we can learn from Cate's Maine island experiences.

The business meeting and slide presentation will be followed by a buffet dinner offering both Bermuda steak strips and stuffed filet of sole as entrees. Tickets are limited, so please make your reservations soon.

Our April Fool's Day Spaghetti Dinner at the Seamen's Church Institute provided great food, great company, great fun-raising and fund-raising, too!

As thunder, lightning and torrential rains fell outside, we merrily sang the song of the evening which went like this: (tune: "On Top of Old Smoky")

On top of spa-ghe-tti
All co-vered with cheese
Stands Rose Is-land Light-house
Pret-ty as you please.

She'll keep look-ing bet-ter
As we try with our might,
With the help from our frie-nds
We will LIGHT THE LIGHT!

We are hoping these heart-felt sentiments will be realized with the full $100,000 balance of our capital fundraising campaign goal being raised by the end of July. Then we can light the light the first week of August without using fossil fuels!

To achieve this goal, we're asking everyone we know for help. Starting with our own Board of Directors and general members, we raised $4,500 in the first two weeks -- enough for the new solar batteries! So, if you have not made your contribution, won't you please consider making one now?

Thanks to our lovely "Green Galley" hostess and chef Laurice Shaw, plus many other donors and helpers, including Marie Puerini (for fresh pasta), Dan Puerini (for the sauce), Bruce Camardo (for making the meatballs), and Salas' (for garlic bread).

Other volunteer cooks, servers and ticket takers to whom we are grateful include: Nancy Espersen, Christine Camardo, John Dalessio, Kit Weiss, Isabelle Coyle, Christopher Owens, Elias Dalessio and Jeff Szala. We couldn't have done it without you!

Prizes and Sur-prizes were promised. They ranged from a night for two at the lighthouse (won by Pam Gilpin) to a dreaded piano-moving trip to the lighthouse, won by Eleanor Dickinson and Terry Johnson of all people! Hope they've got some strong kids to stand in for them! CD's were donated by WADK radio, business cards by Micrographix, and lighthouse ornaments, mugs, visors, windbreakers, T-shirts and weather rocks were won by the really lucky folks.

A WISH LIST "THANK YOU" GOES TO:

Ralph & Kit Weiss for the mower, hand grinder and other workshop tools, washer & dryer and queen box spring & mattress set; Nancy Espersen & Gordon Armstrong for the practically-new hide-a-bed sofa; John & Laurie MacGowan for Old Glory--after the last storm, we needed one! TJ Brown for firewood to keep Christopher & Morgan warm for the winter; Robin & Marion Monk for the cast iron kitchen stove; Oldport Marine for boat fenders; Newport Yachting Center for the use of a float to move the scrap metal off the island and to Newport Public Works for cleaning it up; Glen Farm for old-fashioned organic fertilizer (you know what that means!); Jackie Barrett (JB Antiques) for an antique metal bed and furnishings; Jill Oltz & Web Wilson for many treasures including glass lamps, inlaid Bible and a great old toilet; Frank Doherty of JT's for white cedar shingles; Charlie Miller of JT's Ship Chandlery for the water foot pumps and bronze fittings; Dick & Cynthia Palmer for the Victorian window latches; Brian Pelletier for doorknobs & hardware; Mike Muesel for solar garden lights; Wayne Wheeler of the U.S. Lighthouse Society for a set of keeper's uniform buttons; and to Newport County Cellular for the phone -- Thank you one and ALL!.

- ★ Glad to be looking a gift horse in the mouth (instead of the other end), we still need some items from our last list, plus: a small oak ice box, TV and VCR (yes, we have electricity) and a Dirt Devil portable vacuum cleaner.
- ★ And we can still use some volunteers to finish working in that fertilizer we got from Glen Farm!

"There's something about an island..." says our Keeper Christopher Owens, and spending a night in the newly-restored lighthouse is a very special adventure, indeed!

Our first floor museum offers an authentic, romantic, turn-of-the century experience. The two bedrooms (one of which is pictured above) become available for overnights when the museum closes at 4pm. Guests may bring picnic dinners or food to cook on the gas barbecue grill. Continental breakfast is provided in the morning. Pitchers of hot and cold water are supplied in the "WC" and solar heated showers are taken in the summer.

Room rates for 1993 are:

	Spring/Summer 5/1 - 9/30		Fall/Winter 10/1 - 4/30
